

Meridian CUSD #223
Percentage of Students with Individualized Education Plans (IEP)

Meridian CUSD #223 provides special education services for students who qualify. One of the District's initiatives is the Response to Intervention (RTI) model which focuses on early identification and intervention for students who experience difficulty in school work prior to being identified as special education. If academic difficulties persist, the student may be recommended for special education services and the implementation of an IEP.
